ARRIVET Magazine

Applied Research Results in Vocational Education & Training

ARRIVET is an international, interdisciplinary publication dedicated to the documentation and dissemination of applied research results. Its focus is on the application of research to the solution of business and industry problems, and the use of applied research in vocational learning and teaching. Its audience includes those who are interested in solving practical research problems of business and industry, with particular focus on those committed to the dialogue between production and instruction, the professional and the vocational.

ARRIVET will launch in February 2023 and will publish manuscripts from applied research practitioners around the world. It is particularly receptive to work from women, Indigenous Peoples, persons with disabilities, members of visible minorities/racialized groups, and members of LGBTQ2+ communities. ARRIVET produces one publication annually, in an electronic format, online, and open source.

The magazine is currently seeking expressions of interest for editorial board members for a three-year term starting September 1, 2022, and is striving for disciplinary, ethnic, gender, geographic, and national variety.

Editorial board members will be responsible for reviewing article submissions to ensure they meet the magazine goals and standards. This involves proofreading, communicating with authors as needed, and ensuring ethics review was completed if appropriate. Each editorial board member will review no more than five manuscripts per year. The editorial board is not required to assess technical content nor have content-specific expertise as the magazine is not intended to be peer-reviewed.

If interested, please submit a letter of interest to admin@arrivet.org by June 30, 2022, indicating where you live, the nature of your current employment, your field of expertise, your experience with applied research, and how you feel you can contribute to the board.

ARRIVET Magazine is a collaboration of the World Federation of Colleges and Polytechnics Applied Research and Innovation Affinity Group and will be published and produced by Tknika, an advanced vocational training centre in Basque Country, Spain.
